Offshorability Questions

Q27. Some jobs can be done remotely using a telephone or a computer, while others require face-to-face or physical presence at the job. For example, a telephone survey-taker like me can call you from some other state or even from a foreign country. A computer programmer or a person who takes customer orders over the phone can do the job from anywhere using a computer or telephone. However, a taxi-cab driver, a barber, or a waitress must be at the same place as their customers, and a construction worker has to be physically present at a job site.

So thinking about the distinction I just described, can the work that you (do/did) for your (current/most recent) employer or customers be done at a remote location or does it require you to be physical present where the employer or job site is?

(IF NECESSARY: Please remember that these questions apply only to you and your work, not to others who do similar work elsewhere, and not to others who do different work for your employer.)

- CAN BE DONE AT REMOTE LOCATION 1
- CAN BE DONE REMOTELY, BUT WITH DIFFICULTY 2
- REQUIRES PHYSICAL PRESENCE AT A PARTICULAR LOCATION 3 (Q27b)

- MOSTLY IN A UNIT/GROUP 1
- MOSTLY BY MYSELF 2
- VARIES/DEPENDS 3
- REF 7

b. Suppliers or contractors	1	2	3	7	8
c. Students or trainees	1	2	3	7	8
d. Patients	1	2	3	7	8

Q31. Now think about the work you (do/did) face-to-face with others. To what extent is it possible for you to do that work without being physically present? By that I mean doing the work at a remote location and then delivering it by mail, by telephone, by sending it over the Internet, and so on. Would you say all of the work could be done that way, most of the work, a little of it, or none at all?

- ALL OF THE WORK..... 1
- MOST OF THE WORK 2
- A LITTLE OF THE WORK 3
- NONE AT ALL 4 (BOX BEFORE Q34a)

- A LITTLE 3
